On Behalf of The Best Answer for Cancer Foundation, we would like to cordially invite you to attend the International IPT Conference in beautiful Hollywood, Florida from 14 - 15 May 2010.

This year's Conference, Current Trends in Integrative Cancer Care, is designed to empower attendees to use their knowledge, their voices and their commitment to be part of the overall fight against cancer and freedom of choice.

What makes this conference unique is the opportunity for participants to earn CME credits and seriously engage each other's work through presentations, clinical case studies and roundtable discussions in order to present a many-faceted view of how contemporary medicine is unfolding and playing a vital role in today's current trends and conquering cancer. We are putting together a truly memorable conference, and we look forward to your participation as our community strengthens and grows.
